THE PENNSTLVANIA DE MOCRATIC CON VENTION. THE PLATFORM OF THE PENNSYLVANIA

The telegraph has given a very meager acocratic Convention at Harrisburg, Monday, and the nemination of the Hon. Heister Clymer for Governor. The convention adopted the follow-to the payment of the national debt, and Congress shall pass all laws necessary tor tast pur-regulate the qualifications of its own citizens.

5 That the white race alous is emitted to the control of the Government of the Republic, and we are newthing to g and to negrees the right

Mr. Clymer, in accepting the nomination, thus alluded to the responsibilities which, in the present crisis, rest upon the candidate

Dry to -The following high-spirited and partio ic article, we clip from the Danvil e (Ky.) A iv.

These who know Andrew Johnson best, have the adherents of the radical majority in congrees, because he saw fit to check their revoluflonary attempts, and because he would not yield a passive obscience to the fanatical spirit which would override the guarantee of a free government, and establish a consoil stell system, at noter variance with the originat purpose of the founders of the Republic. In this great movement, which the irresident has inangurated, to return once again to the old order of things and to restore our country to its original ruthy and peace, he will have the support of houses and good men ol all the old party organizations. The litting ap of the black cloud of passion and hatred, eagendered by the war, has enabled the people, of both sections, to calmly review the past, and to make a wise application of its dreadful experience. Hence, we see all ower the land, that immense popular meetings are being held and resolutions expressive of an expost desire to see the mod apprid of verscenage crushed out, the immediate rectoration of aithe States to their original scains in the Union declared, and a firm reliance expressed in its fixed purpose and the steady hand of Andrew Johnson to accomplish the work. It is indeed a noble spectacle to see him firmly planted on the Constitution of his constry, and boildy defying and holding in check the mod faction that would rend it asunder.
Let him be sustained by the people, in word and in deed, and soon we will behold a restored Union, and the old Consiliution once again venerated for its wisdom, and adocaved to as the pallsdium of our liberties.

ALEXANDER CAMPBELL ERIEF SWETCH OF HIS LIFE AND PUBLIC GAREER.

him to them.

Lut it was in secial life, in the midst of his friends and relatives, especially around his own ever-througed and ever hospitable fleeside, that alexander Campbell was most truly loved and henored, and there the vacuum can never be filled. As a conversationalist he was as constantly libe devoted centre of attraction for old said young, stranger or relative, as ever were closeldige or Macauley. His information, derived from life long study and from travels in Enrope and America, and from his experience among every variety of life, was inexhanstible, and always charming by its exceeding simplicity. His manner toward the humblest domestic of his household was engaging. Never were the inborn characteristics of a gentleman more certainly manifested than in bin. Child ren loved the very gight of him. "None knew him but love him,"

We have not had time to dwe'll upon many incidents of Mr. Campbell's life. We have omitted his career as a member of the Virginia Constitutional Convention of 1829 39, in which body he sat a member of the Judiciery Committee along with Chilef Justice Marshall, and in which he encountered Randelph and the most distinguished men of that day in debate. It was in that body that he gave prophetic notice of what would allimately be the course of Western Vrginia, and of what he lived to ecce accompilished.

American elavery. He believed, however, that the relation of master and slave had existed in Biblical times under the divine sauction, or, at all events, tolerance, and, while he did not desire to be regarded as the apologist of American elavery, he contended that it should not be a test question of communion in the courches. This was his position in Sectiand before the excepte of that country, as it had been here at home before the American people. His own elaves he had emancipated many years previous, The cooling heurs of this great and good man's life were loxyressibly affecting to the propp of tender friends and relatives that watched round his bed-cide. At times his mind wou'd wander over old similar scenes, and he would recall them by name. He was operised with a longing for rest and quiet and home. He was weary with his long juncey, and he spoke of his desire to be led to his fainds and kindred, and to be at peace. Not a nurmur, not a complaint, once e-seped him; he was gentle and meek and patient through not—only he was oppressed with a restless wearines. A letter cated from his chamber at haif past 2 o'elvek of Saturday morning last, to the writer of this memoir, speaks thus of him:

"I am akting up to night with our dear uncle. We hally thought this would be his last night on earth, but he has survived the turn of the night, and may pessibly wear through another day. His strength is wonde ful. All this night. I have thought, as I waitehed him, of a giant grappling with a desperate foe, or of some noble animal strengting to be duent ingled from the enemy's tolis, chafted and firtted within his narrow boundaries. Death has no power to dam his great mind; his senses are as acute and clear as ever, and his beautiful nature shows the same in all things. His gunthenes and patience mid his suffering hreak all our hearts. Such sweetness and submission to the slightest when of others around himsuch kind consideration for every one who comes into his presence—his little expressions of greeting, and his luquiry oy lath. Sand the cond and checks of that then charling proclamation went har teyond his own conception and control. And thus Alexander Chiplel, in the manner, startled those with whom he was in community, by this declaration that "Christian Union day result from tetling short of the destruction of creeds and contessions of faith, inalmuch as human creeds and contessions have destroyed Christian Union." That "whenever the setting saids of creeds and contessions shell be attempted. Christian Union." That "whenever the setting saids of creeds and contessions shell be attempted. Christians will give to the world and to angel, and to themselves, proof that they do believe the world of God."

This was the Campbell's first great distinctive themselves, proof that they do believe the world of God.

This was the Campbell's first great distinctive themselves, by the world and to angel, and to the testing the best of the total so the following to be self-evident truths, viz. "That notifies onght to be received into the taith or worship of the charten. Not ought anything to be admitted as of Divine obligation in the church constitution or management, save what is enjoined by the anthority of our Lord Jesus Christ and his Apostles upon the New Testament charch, either in expression to the consequence was, that feer having been arrakened as the "sector forth of strunge doctaines," and the would-be founder of a new sect, which accessations he repelled by saying that "there is nothing new in Christianity," he separated from the Presbyte risk communion, and began to appear in passic in delense of his views and in vandication of his entire crubodoxy. We have not appear in passic in delense of his views and in vandication of his entire crubodoxy. We have not appear in passic in delense of his views and in vandication of his entire crubodoxy. We have not appear in passic in delense of his views and in vandication of his entire crubodoxy. We have not appear in passic in delense of his views and in vandication of his entire crubodo is a lature made lim, to the very last. The comnanting and fascinating elements of his character are intact in the midst of the wreck of it. tter. Such passages of scripture as he has rect deven in his wanderings, and such grand certence as have fallen from his lips—useh leantlin, solinquites upon the flestness of time' and alpos doing good waite we can,' xz.—are wonderfel, very wonderful, to all of its. All ite records of great men, and their obsing hours, give no such precious remembrances.

To us who love him so he appears the greatest of them all. Humboldt, you know, loo dag no or the set, tig, on with his dring eves, said, 'logh, mere light!' and Goethe, dying at the same lare clock gony, raised his naud and made as the ugh he were writing in the al', according to his habit of describing all his sensations as they came. But these dying witnesses of the lives they had led, characteristic as they were, how time, how meanlagiess compared with what our uncle expressed an evening or so ago in watching the glories of the departing sun. Its last laws were streaming through the wind ws directly from the his bed, and fell upon it. A group of filends eat around him in silence, and he, turnh, from them to the sinking san, repeated that passage from Malachl which had been so often on his lips during his life, running thus: "But unto you that fear my name shall the son of righteous cas arise with healing in his wings."
Such were the closing hours of Alexander Campbell—by thems, and and ters of thousands of his day. We have taken the liberty to use what was intended to be a private letter, because in no other way could we give satisfaction to his many filends, here and elsewhere, as to his less hours. May we not on their behalf upproreportedly close this memoir with these lines from leany son?

MONDAY, MARCH 12, 1866. THE PENNSYLVANIA DEMOCRACY SUSTAIN JOHNSON'S RESTORATION POLICY.—The Democrats of Pernsylvania have held their State Convention, adopted a platform of principle and nominated the Hon. Hiester Clymer as their gubernatorial candidate. We publish their platform this morning in connection with Mr. Clymer's elequent speech delivered before vention when accepting the nomination. We call the special attention of the editor of the Louisville Democrat to these im portant Democratic documents, which, as he will see, give an emphatic indorsement to President Johnson's restoration policy-that policy which the Democrat denounces as being all that the radicals could desire." We indorse the Pennsylvania platform, every line and word of it, as heartily as we indorse the nobl policy which Andrew Johnson has devised for he complete restoration of the Union.

Hampshire in their State Conventions, not held, have taken precisely the same ground with the Democracy of Pennsylvania and have entered their pending gubernatorial contests as unequivocal supporters of the Presitent in opposition to the radicals who denounce Andrew Johnson, and espouse the cause of the ultra, revolutionary majority in Congress. The conservative Republicans in all of these States will support the Union Democratic ticket, and by virtue of this co-operation the elections will be carried triumphantly in favor of the President's policy.

Saturday morning last, the editor of the Lonswille Democrat announced that he "beionged to the Democratic party of the United States, as represented by the Democracy of the loyal States. Has he any word of cheer or approval for the Democracy of Pennsylvania, Co. cut, and New Hampshire, in view of the platforms adopted in their late Conventions?

The Democratic State Conventions of Ohio and Indiana will assemble in a few days, and we are ready to wager any reasonable am hat they will not depart in any particular from the patriotic course adopted by the Democratic conventions that have already been held. They will indorse, clearly and strongly indorse, Andrew Johnson's restoration policy-that policy which conservative Union men sustain throughout the nation, but which the editor of the Louisville Democrat denounces as being "all that the radicals could desire."

The fact is that the editor of the Democrat docen't advocate any policy, nor any clearly defined principles pertinent to the great and vitas nes of the day, and we doubt that he has the motest idea of what is his real position. The me Democracy of the loyal States, however, are not responsible for him.

Who constitute the Union party? Is T. W. a member? Is President Johnson a member? Are the "traitors" Thaddeus Sievens, Charles Eumner, Wendell Phillips and Lloyd Garrison members? There is an irrepressible conflict between the President and the radicals. Do Mr. Johnson and those who stand with him represent the Union party? Democrats are not interested in the decision of the question. They do not want any offices until the people determine that they are entitled to them all.—Chicago Times.

You ask who are Union men, and we ask you who are Democrats. Here is another "irre-pressible conflict." Is President Johnson a emocrat? Is his administration Democratic? Is his restoration policy Democratic? If the Democrats "do not want any offices until the people determine that they are entitled to them all," certainly the people are "entitled" to know precisely who the "Democrats" are, so as to be ready to bestow "all the offices" upon them at the earliest convenient moment Which of our fierce belligerents here, good Chicago Times, do you recognize as Demo -the Louisville Democrat's Democrats or the Louisville Courier's Democrate?

The Radicals got the upper-hand in the lican State Convention of Pennsylvania (which assembled subsequently to the Demo cratic Convention), and, under the lead of Thad. Stevens and John W. Forney, secured the adoption of a platform making a direct iseue against Precident Johnson's Restoration policy. The Conservative Republicans struggled hard in opposition to the Radicals. re finally overpowered, and we hope they will sustain the Democratic Gubernatorial nom ince, who fully Indorses the President. Does the editor of the Louisville Democrat go with the Radicals against Johnson's policy or with the Democracy of Pennsylvania in their support of i? Remember, dear Harney, that we have denounced that policy as being "all that the Radicale could desire."

There is to be but one efficient party in Ken'ucky against the Radical party of the North. We ask what party it is to be? It can't be the Louisville Democrat's party, for that paper ineists that President Johnson's policy of restoration is 'all that the radicals could desire." can't be the Louisville Courier's party, for that paper recognizes as Democrats only the rebeis or exrebels or the sympathizers with the rebel-

The only people (we wont say party) that can have a prospect or a sign of a prospect of suc-ces are the great and mighty masses that are gathering to support the policy of the Chief Magistrate of the nation. No party opposed to him can, a year hence, be seen with a field-The Democaatle State Central Committee

The Democratic State Central Committee of Connectiont, have issued an eloquent address to the electors of the State, settling forth the issues presented for the consideration of the people at this cries and the duty of every particular. The friends of the President, of every rhade of political opinion, are counseled to act together in his support, to strengthen his hands and aid him in his patriotic efforts to harmonize the conflicting interests of the country.— Boston Post. And so it is everywhere throughout the North.

The Louisville Democrat says that the Democrats of the North are now the true, the genuine Democratic party, and yet they unanimously support a poilcy which the Louisville Demcorat violently asserts to be "all that the radicals could desire"! What does this mean? Please say.

The only Democratic party we know of, with a consistent record and unbroken organization, is in the North, where there are a million and a half of votess who have never surrendered to sectionalism.—Democrat. Well, point your readers, if you can, to a single Democratic Convention, or Democratic caucus, or Democratic newspaper, or leading Democratic etateeman or politicisu in all the North that has spoken of the President's restoration policy except to indorse it—that policy which you traduce as "all that the radcals could desire"!

The Louisville Democrat, the other day, houted "Hurrah for President Johnson!" It is exceedingly preposterous and ridiculous that a paper should raise such a shout for the President simply because he vetoed a suborninate measure while it is denouncing the chief policy of his administration, the policy thrice-paramount to all others, the noble and grand policy of restoration.

We tell our readers that the people of entucky are rushing to the support of President Johnson's policy. They are coming in "They come as the sterms come when forests are rended, They come as the waves come when navious are strand-ed."

If the Courier's convention at the Courthouse on Saturday evening was the best that it couldget done in Louisville and Jefferson, what can it expect in other parts of Kantucky? Is it an signe-blind as not to see that its so-called party is not worth being so-called?

Let the Louisville Democrat look through, Kentucky and observe the position of the conacryative press in regard to the President's plan of restoration. It will see that it is almost as isolated as poor Crusoe upon his island.

The fight between the Courier and Democrat for the name of Democrat is a tremendous speciacle. And the greatest thing about it is that it is "dog-cheap." In fact, the public are all "dead-heads." We tell you, fellow-citizens of Kentucky, that the Johnson convention is the great com ing event. It casts no "shadows before," but it casts a broad blaze of light. A great heart pines in poverty among the non hearts of earth.

In response to numerous requests from men of all parties, in various portions of the State, we armounce that a grand mass meeting of the friends of President Johnson's restoration policy will assemble in this city on WEDNESDAY, THE SEVENTH OF NEXT MAY. All the counties of the State are earnestly requested to end celegates to the meeting, irrespective of old party issues or party names, that the people of Kentucky may clearly express their determination to sustain the President against the radical elements of the country.

THE GREAT "DEMOCRATIC" CONVENTION SAT-CRDAY LAST .- Saturday last, in response to the Courier's appeal for a so-called "Democratic" County Convention, to appoint delegates to the called "Democratic" State Convention on the let of next May, some fifteen or twenty gentlemen assembled in the room of the County Court in this city. We cannot say that the neeting was a success; nor need we say that it was a failure. We will state, however, that had it been a straight ont Johnson union meeting we though personally very clever, were thorough statements made by Gen. Fisk were false and seccessionists; at least, we didn't see a Union | slarderons, and so reported to the General Asman among them. A series of elaborate resolutions was [adopted, representing the people of Kentucky as having been most terribly out that had volunteered to enlighten the people raged and oppressed by Federal power during of the country upon the dreadini condition of past five years, and denouncing the Kentucky? Did he attend the cittings of the whole course of the war (on the Union aide), but atudiously avoiding any reference to the outrages and oppressions attributable to the he exhibit the fact that he was worthy of the rebellion. It was clearly the sense of the meeting that the rebellion should be foregotten while all the wrongs that were incident to the in memory. It was, also, clearly the sense of the meeting that Dr. Buchanan's "Central Exeratic" party of Kentucky, and that everybody in the State, laying aside the differences of the past, should cordially unite with that Commit-tee in saving the nation. In this happy conviction the meeting appointed a large number of delegates to the Doctor's "Democratic" Convention, and, after a conple of very enthusiastic er ceches to the "large and intelligen; assemblage," at j prned sine die.

FIRE YESTERDAY MORNING-TWO HORSES BURNED TO DEATH-LOSS OF OVER EIGHT THOU-SAND DOLLARS WORTH OF PROPERTY .- About two o'clock yesterday morning the fire alarm was sounced from Bex No. 63, corner of Sixnth and Walnut streets. The etable of William Hulse, in the alley between Sixteenth and eventeenth and Madison and Chestnut streets. caught fire in some unknown manner. Owing to the scarcity of water in that neighborhood and the prevalence of a strong wind, the flames spread with great rapidity and soon enveloped the carpenter-shop of Mr. Weiss, from theree extending to a frame cottage, beonging to Mrs. Myers and occupied by a Gerfour or five other stables were also taken in the flery track. In the stable of Mr. Hulse a pair of very fine horses and a valuable carriage were were consumed. The owners of the other ill-fated stables managed, by strenuous exertions, to save their stock and carriages. All of the buildings above mentioned and their entire contents, with the exceptions noted, were destroyed. The aggregate amount of the loss was $8,300, npon which there was but $1,000 menrance. The Fire Depritment was ont in its utmost strength, every mer, horse-reel, and ladder-truck being upon the ground. Had it not been for the great carcity of water in the vicinity of the fire, the damage would have been very slight. The only means to get water npon the burning buildings was to station one engine at the nes est cistern, and make hose connection with another engine posted within throwing distance of the flames, the first engine forcing water into the second, and the second re-discharging the stream upon the fire. This was a tedious procers, requiring the services of every section of hose in the department. Under the circumetancer, the men of the department did ali that culd have been done to save the property.

THE FIRST OF THE FENIAN SOLDIERY .- TWO into the service of the Republic last evening by State of Kentneky. The officers of these ploreceive their commissions in a few days. The men of the two organizations paraded yester day evening previous to their muster-in at the Emerald Hall, on Fifth street. They made a decidedly military appearance. From all it dications, the Febian War Department is making earnest and active preparations. Men are carelling by the score, and it is confidently expected that the city of Louisville will furnish at least one complete regiment for the army of General Sweeney. Americans as well as Irishmen are showing their anxiety to small gunpowder and otherwise assist the Fenian cause. The treasury in this city is receiving donations constant y, and the friends of Ireland Tels man fanci d Whitelock's vest, and very modestiy proposed to trade for it. Whitelook bit direc'ly, The wigard wished to examine the vest close'y. Whitelock unbuttoned the garment. Magiciau inspected it to his satisfaction, declined trading, and walked away. About two hours afterward Whitelock discovered that his pocketbook, containing $125 in money, and sundry notes to the value of over $200, had been abstracted from the inner pocket of his vest. Whitelock has neither seen nor beard of the expert trader in vests, and in all probability never will.

New Mathonist Church.-The congregation of the Brook street Methodist Church have, for several weeks past, canvassed the enterprise of purchasing ground and erecting a new house of worship. At the morning service yesterday, reported, thus placing the matter fully under way. We hope the requisite sum may be soon realised, and that we shall before many months lock upon their new and beautiful temple.

Protestor O. S Fowler, the oldest of living Phremologists, leaves to-day, after doing an immense business in the city. No one has ever ranked higher in his line of business than the Professor, and from what we know of him for a number of years, no one is more deserving of confidence. GEN. FISE AND THE INVESTIGATING COMMIT-THE.-We are informed that Gen. Fisk, of the Freedmen's Bureau, passed through this city a few days ago on his way to Nashville, and that he will be ready, on his return, to arrange for an early interview with the special committee inted by the Legislature, with a view to take further testimony in the matter which they are anthorized to investigate. It will be remembered by onr readers that Gen. Fisk was charged with using false and slanderons language in a harangue delivered at Cincinnati, when speaking of the condition of affairs in Kentucky; and that he solemnly declared the people of Lexington, in particular, were guilty of crimes which should bring the blash of shame upon the citizens of any civil zed country. Euch language araused the righteous indigna tion of the entire legislative body, and the renbtable officer who so zealously guards the interests of 'his people' was denounced in fitting and sufficiently vehement terms. Prominent members of both branches of the Legislature freely and fully avowed their contempt and ndignation for so despicable a course as Gen. Fisk had adopted, and resolutions passed, "that a committee be appointed to investigate the truth or falelty of his statements" before final and official action should be made. This committee sat in Lexington for several days, and chould have felt painfully chagrined. All the cock testimony both from white and negro witresees. They proved beyond a doubt that the existed to justify him in his statements? Did confidence or respect of the people of Kentucky by the steps he afterward pursued? Let us near the ailroad, and two auds balf miles from Cawhile all the wrongs that were incident to the war for the Union should be vividly cherished the General A. sembly was known to the country. First, we find him at Washington City, writing, letters to one of the committee, ecutive Committee" (all the members of which see secessionists) represented the true "Demovestigation, and am confident that I can prove the truth of all I said to your entire satisfaction. Next, we learn by the public prints that he has reached Indianapolie, and is about to start for Fraukfort to throw the legislative body into great coninsion, and nuterly disorganize the deep-laid scheme of the committeemen. But o! while the committee waits with due hum.lity and self denial for the coming thunderbol. which he promises to bring in his hard, they learn how narrow their escape has heen-for he misses the Frankfort, and has taken the Nashville train. Patiently does the committee wait a little longer-patiently, yet donbtingly. At length the truth begins to dawn upon their minds, that the Generaliselmo of the negro population frais to meet them-that he has resorted to committee and endeavor to prove that grounds strategy in order to circumvent them, that he is waiting for the sixty days to expire so that the General A sembly may adjourn without passing a merited sentence npon them. They eluctantly decide to make their report. It is the Legislature is on the eve of adopting it a dispatch is received which slates that his eisterin-law is quite ill, and that other afflictions have come upon his domestic hearth. This Legislature, being composed of men eminent for the humanity and benevolence of their disceltions, and fearful of the charge that injustice, if it were possible, has been done, resolve to permit the committee to ait during the reess, and take further testimony. Three weeks have elapsed since the adjourn ent of the Legislature, and the accused is still indifferent as to the time when his character for truth and veracity will be established. The lenger he delays az investigation, the more are Kentuckians convinced of his guilt and willfully treacherons conduct. All must know how dif scult it will be to prove the charges he has made, but it is the policy of the Freedmen's Bureau agents and superintendents to denonnce and misrepserent the people of this State, and place hem before the country in a false and imprope ight. Witness the language of Thomasson We quote from the Democrat: "He stated that f Fick had said ail in his Cincinnati speech that it is reported he said, he did not tell the one-hundredth part of what occurred." Who can for a moment credit the language of men who will ntter such palpable and gross mis:epresentations? The Bureau was ceived in sin, and brought forth in iniquity, companies of one hundred men each for and it is the duty of all good Christian men to the Irish Army of Liberation, were mustered disconrage its movements, and to finally rid at once lost all use of himself, tumbling headlong into themselves of its annoyances. BURGLARICUS OPERATIONS -On Friday nigh last, the petty burglars, with which the city abounds, were most industrionsly engaged. The cigar store of W. & N. Rnby, on Fourth street, between Jesserson and Green, was pilfered of about $18 worth of clears and a small sum of money. From the fancy store of Mrs. Raible, near Wood's Theater, aundry articles in bex and about $100 were stolen. Dick Moore's green grocery, on Fourth street, be-tween Jefferson and Green, was broken into selves to at many preserved peaches as they rould devour, but took nothing from the store except a saw and betaket with the saw and th from the back way. The rogues belped themselves to as many preserved peaches as they xcept a saw and hatchet, with which they afterward forced an entrance into the aboveby's and the hetchet at Mrs. Rabble's The franklin House, on Broadway, was visited and cobbed of various articles. Two other hones by A. M. Griswold, Eq., the "fat contribute." n Green street were pilfered. Major J. H. This was probably owing to the fact that the night police go off the clay at 5 o'clock A. M., an hour or two before they are relieved by the day watch. There exists a may be made known. It added to such protects, parting through our city defined by a more invocable time for the such could not be a more invorable time for the suc-cessful operations of thieves than just before daylight, when the eye of sleep is sealed closest.

This golden opportunity should not be accorded the miserable prowlers that infest the city. Our night policemen should receive orders to break unguaided, and remain vigilantly upon duty

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER. AUCTION SALES.

[Special Correspondence of the Louisville Jon Washington, D. C., March 5, 1866. I chanced to be at Wilmington, Delaware, last Saturday evening, and learning that a meeting was to he held of the loyal citizens of the city and adjoining district, irrespective of No. 52 Maln st , bet. Second and Third, earty, to indoise the administration of our me southy P esident, Andrew Johnson; and less her that it was to be addressed by c Representative in Cougress, Ger Rousseau, I remained to attend.

before the hour appointed, the hall, which sents about 2,060 per pie, was densely packed, and his the analysis about 2,060 per pie, was densely packed, and his the andience were many ladies. Hundreds, it not thousands, were forced to go away. At 7% o'cleck the meeting was called to order. Dr. II. T. Arken, the chairman, stated the object of the meeting to be for the purpose of indorsing the course of President Johnson, especially with reference to lik veto of the Freedmen's Burean lift, and he hoped that one and all would accord him that support which is necessary for the maintenance of that policy.

Then came the reading of the resolutions. They were timely, and breathed a spirit of loyalty and devotion to the country and the admiristration of President Johnson. There was nothing bitter in them, but an earnest appeal to all loyal men, hrespective of party, to rally and with an enthusiasm that expressed the ear-nest conviction of the heart that they were right. The band then rlayed a stirring national anthem, after which the Hon. Chas. A. Winfield, member of Congress from New York, addressed the meeting in a strong speech of three-quarters of an hour. He was listened to with naked attention, and made a decidedly favorable impression not only for decidedly favorable impression, not only for himself, but in favor of the conservative policy of the President. He then modestly remarked that he was convinced that the chief attraction of the meeting, he whom all had come to see and heer, was his flustrious friend, soldier, and statesman from Kentucky, General Rousseau, and that with pleasure he accorded him the floor.

The General, with that periect elegance of bearing which ever characterizes him, then advanced to the stand, and was greeted with thunders of appliance, long continued, and which must have been as gratilying to his pride as it was deserving to his good name. For an herr and a quarter he held the vast andence spell bond by his manly cloquence and irrespell bond by his manly cloquence and irrespectively. The policy of the President, showed the designs of the radicals in attempting to subvert his policy, vindicated the personal henor of the President himself, and analyzed the Freedmen's Burean bill in a most masterly manner. I never before witnessed so complete a dissection of a legislative enactment. He proved its unconstitution. wincesed so complete a dissection of a legislative enactment. He proved its unconstitutionality and the atrocity of its features in a manner that cannot be gainsaid. During the discussion of this bill, the most profound silvere reigned in cuighout the hall, and I question whether a single individual did not see that bill in a cilierent light than ever before.

effect, which of itself proved him to be a patriodic man—above any mere partizan feeling or blas—did much good. Two-thirds of this meeting was cump seed of Republicans, and many conceded that never before had they heard so powerful a spaceth against the Bareau hill. They were estisfed it was wrong, and now they believed the President did right in vetoing it.

All conceded to him true patriodism, honesty of purpose, and a sincere desire to aid in a speedy settlement of this vexed question of reconstitutions and although many presence citil speedy settlement of this vexed question of re-censtituction; and although many persons still declared they were radical, they expressed their delight at hearing the General's speech. Alicgether It was a grand affair, and indicates that slowly, the public mind is undergoing a reaction—that it is breeking away from the trammela imposed upon it by the radical school, and veering around to the support of the contilutional policy of reconstruction—the policy marked cut by Mr. Lincoin, and the one which with the help of the people Andrew Johnson will faithfully lahor to accomplise. The Herald's Washington special says: In the Supreme Courl, Mr. Starsbury, of Ohio, and Attorney General Speed closed the arguments on behalf of the Government in the Indiana conspiracy case. David Dadley Field of New York, will sum up on Monday for the petitioners. The 13th Connectiont regiment, retained in ervice at Savannah, claim that their term of inlietment has been more than fulfilled, and great irritation among the officers and men is be result. The 35th Illinois regiment is in the same predictament.

Gens. Custar and Fremont arrived in Wash-Forty clerks were discharged from the Treas-nry Department yesterday.

General Custar gives rather a gloomy account of the political affaits in Texas. There is little if any loyalty outside of our lines, and if our troops were withdrawn there would be nonesay-where. Greenbacks are but seldom acknowl-ideed to have any If any loyalty ontside of our lines, and if our troops were withdrawnthere would be noneasy, where. Greenbacks are but seldom acknowledged to have any value, and gold and silver are the circulating mediums. In many places greenbacks will not buy food or fuel. The idea that they will ever be paid is but seldom entertained. Metters are daily growing worse. On the return of Senator Howard another Installment of testimony will be ready for publication, among which is that of several rebel Generals. The Treasury Department yesterday received a telegram from Chicago annonneing the death of Luther Havens, Collector of that port. His enccessor has not vet been appointed.

The Timee's Washington special says that Hon. F. Thomas, of Maryland, is preparing to make a claim before Congress on behalf of the State of damages on account of the turning of two bridges on the ronte from Washington to Frederick, destroyed by order of Lew. Wallace at the battle of Monocare, in July, 1861. General Wallace, in response to inquiries from Mr. Thomas, says he ordered the burning of the bridges to retard Early's march upon Washington by depriving him of facilities for crossing the stream, and that Early was thus detained thirty-six houre. A second object was to bring the stream, and that Early was thus detained thirty-six houre. A second object was to bring the order and the forces detailed to gnard the bridges. The overpowering numbers of Early's troops were making it impracticable to concentrate all the Federal forces to hold the rebels in chick.

The further consideration of the bankrupte

The inriher consideration of the bankrupley bill will be recursed in the Hones on Wednesday or Thursday next. The friends of the bill have confidence in its passage, several members, who heretolere opposed the bill, having signified their intention of supporting it.

NEW YORK, March 10.

There was an immense Fenian meeting at Cooper Institute last evening. Stirring speeches were made by Messrs. Rafferty, Mesky, Colllus, Train, and others. The Fenian excitement shows no abatement this morning. The World's Washington special says the Honge-Judiciary Committee, yesterday, anthorized their chairman to report an important bill to restore the possession of the lands confircated by the anthority of States lately in rebellion. It provides that in all cases where any loval citizen of the United States has disposed of any lands or tenements belonging to him or her within any of the said States, on any order, proceeding or decree of these States, on the grounds of his or her adherence to the Union, or his or her absence or failure to give support to said States, it shall be the duty of the President or the commanding efficer of the military forces staticned within the particular State or district, by an order setting forth all the facts in the case, to restore to the former person or persons so NEW YORK, March 10. to restore to the former person or persons a aggrieved the possession and right which the have been unjustly deprived of, and to protect
